YOUR POLICING POUNDS

Sue Mountstevens

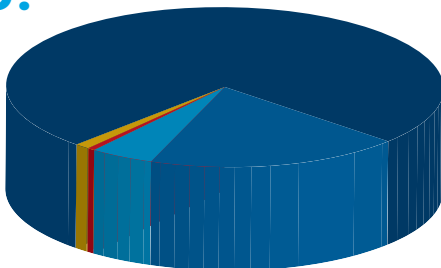

“ I know that any increase in bills is felt by households and, after this extraordinary year, this rise is an even bigger ask. The decision to raise the policing part of the council tax by 5.88% (£13.39 a year for Band D households) has not been taken lightly.

With the Home Office having frozen the policing grant for 2021/22 and requiring PCCs to increase the policing part of the council tax in order to keep pace with inflation in the budget as a whole, I have the unenviable job of deciding how we balance the threat from criminality and the safety of residents. In order to improve visibility and results, we need to have resources. I'm committed to working closely with the Chief Constable to keep our communities safe and work towards our vision of excellent victim services, better policing, and fairer criminal justice services for all."

Sue Mountstevens - Police and Crime Commissioner for Avon and Somerset
